George S. Ladd Memorial Fund

W. E. Helbling Fund

2018

Background of the Ladd-Helbling Fund:

The Ladd-Helbling Fund was initially established in memory of George S. Ladd, the first president of Pacific Telephone and Telegraph, who died in 1889. His will designated funds be set aside to establish a hospital for telephone company employees in need. Since there were funds to build the hospital but not to staff it they were invested until a remedy could be found. Eventually Mr. Ladd's widow, Mrs. Elizabeth Patterson (Ladd) Mitchell, and the trustees were able to establish a fund to help Pacific Telephone retirees who experienced significant financial needs.

The fund grew through the years expanding with the addition of the estate of retired Pacific Telephone and Telegraph/Telesis employee W.E. (Bill) Helbling who passed away in 1988.

The purpose of the Ladd-Helbling Fund is to generally provide one-time assistance for extraordinary expenses or Disaster Assistance *; or to provide temporary stipends to supplement a retiree's basic income in times of need. It is open to all Pacific Telephone retirees who are Disability or Service Pension eligible. Applications and directions may be requested at the address noted below. {Note: A retiree does not need to be a member of the Telephone Pioneers; and does not have to live in California to apply.}

Full 'Applications' should be accompanied by a short letter clearly stating the reason for requesting financial assistance and a full disclosure of all financial resources and liabilities. Disaster applications are an abbreviated format; contact Ladd-Helbling for assistance.

Please contact Pat Schwafel, the administrative manager of the fund, who will be glad to assist you with any questions you might have.
